To search you out.
Oth. Tis well I am found by you,
I will but spend a word here in the house, and goe with you.
Cas. Auncient, what makes he here?
Ia Faith he to night, hath boorded a land Cárriack,
If it proove lawfull prize, hee's made for euer.
Cas I doe not vnderstand.
Ia Hee's married.
Cas. To whom.

Enter Brabantio, Roderigo, and others with lights and weapons.

Ia. Marry to— Come Captaine, will you goe?
Oth. Ha'with you.
Cas. Here comes another troupe to seeke for you.
Ia. It is Brabantio, Generall be aduisde,
He comes to bad intent.
Oth. Ho la, stand there.
Rod. Seignior, it is the Moore.
Bra. Downe with him thiefe.
Iag. You Roderigo, come sir, I am for you.
Oth. Keepe vp your bright swords, for the dew will rust em,
Good Seignior you shall more command with yeares
Then with your weapons.
Bra. O thou foule theefe, where hast thou stowed my daughter?
Dambd as thou art, thou hast inchanted her,
For Ile referre me to all things of sense,
(If she in chaines of magick were not bound)
Whether a maide so tender, faire, and happy,
So opposite to marriage, that she shund

Iudge me the world, if t'is not grosse in sense,
That thou hast practisd on her with foule charmes,
Abusd her delicate youth with drugs or minerals,
That weakens motion: Ile haue't disputed on;
